

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Her Magic Is the Same.

A little sun, a little rain,
A soft wind blowing from the west—
And woods and fields are sweet again,
And warm within the mountain's breast.

So simple is the earth we tread,
So quick with love and life her frame:
Ten thousand years have dawned and fled,
And still her magic is the same.

A little love, a little trust,
A soft impulse, a sudden dream—
And life as joy as desert dust
Is fresher than a mountain stream.

So simple is the heart of man,
So ready for new hope and joy:
Ten thousand years since it began
Have left it younger than a boy.

Anniversary Reception.

The tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Churchill Young, of No. 72 Shaver Street, was most delightfully marked last evening by a reception, for which about two hundred invitations had been issued.

The parlors and halls were very artistically decorated in purple and American Beauty roses. The colored scheme in the dining-room was in yellow, yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles in silver chandeliers and candelabra, producing a brilliant effect.

Guests, many of them including the younger married people who make such a pleasant part of Richmond society, were received by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Churchill Young, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Talbott, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Anderson and Mrs. Mason Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Young were at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Churchill Young was beautifully gowned in white lace over white satin, with diamonds.

Mrs. Charles Talbott, Mrs. Young's mother, was very handsome in black lace over white.

Mrs. James H. Anderson had on an exquisite gown of Irish point lace and pearl necklace and ornaments.

Mrs. Mason Miller wore black velvet with berbe and poodle at rose point lace, and diamonds.

Mrs. Aubrey Young was in violet crepe de chine with insets of lace and amethyst jewelry.

Many congratulations and good wishes were offered Mr. and Mrs. Churchill Young by their friends, the reception being one of the handsomest and most enjoyable of this season. An orchestra played a well-arranged series of musical airs during reception hours.

Mr. Barnwell's Lecture.

Miss Alice Leigh was chairman yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club, and secured for the speaker the Rev. Robert W. Barnwell, of Potomac, Md. Barnwell's stay at St. Paul's Church here, was remembered with pleasure by many members of the club, so that an unusually large crowd was in attendance to hear him.

The subject for the afternoon was "Philanthropy," and Mr. Barnwell's address dealt with the theme in its largest sense, as expressing the sublime conception of love and service for humanity.

Mrs. Roland Smith served tea, and Mrs. F. H. Boykin served chocolate.

On Wednesday evening the Literary Round Table will discuss "Penny's Career," by Mrs. Humphrey Ward, under the direction of Miss Helen Stockwell.

Class Luncheon.

On Thanksgiving evening Miss Florence Keilm entertained her Sunday School class in her home, on East Broad Street. All the decorations were in pink and white. One of the features of the evening was a spirited singing contest, in which Miss Lela Wharton won the first prize and Miss Sabin Frederick the consolation.

Among those present were Messrs Irene Savage, Murray Smith, Lela Wharton, Sadie Kendrick, Hazel Brown, Mrs. Abbott, Marion and Martha Ware, Misses Aylett Gould, George and Allen Heister, George Newcombe, James Matthews, B. Dickinson and Stanes Keilm.

The Spider.

By WALT WHITMAN.

Other editions from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

A noblest, patient spider.

I mark'd where on a little promontory it stood isolated,
Mark'd how to explore the vacant, vast surrounding,
It launch'd forth filament, filament, out of itself,
Ever unreeling them, ever tirelessly speeding them.

And you, O my soul! where you stand,
Surrounded, detached, in measureless oceans of space,
Censlessly musing, venturing, throwing, seeking the spheres to connect them,

Till the bridge you need be formed, till the ductile anchor hold,
Till the gossamer thread you fling, catch somewhere, O my soul!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1903. One is published each day.

theatre party given by Miss Brent Witt on Wednesday evening last. The Misses Cooke and Miss Miles, accompanied by Mrs. Lucian Cooke, attended the football game in Norfolk Thursday, and returned to Roanoke Friday night.

For Miss Field.

Miss Jean Field will be formally introduced to Richmond society at a large reception to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Blair, of No. 51 East Grace Street, Thursday afternoon, December 13th, from 2 to 5 o'clock. The same evening, from 7 to 10 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Blair will entertain the young people at a reception.

For Miss Frazier.

The Norfolk Virginian-Victor of Sunday has the following item that will be of interest to friends of the young people in this city:

"Mr. Charles Whitlock, of Richmond, entertained Miss Jessie Frazier, of Richmond, Miss Katherine Newell and Mr. Lloyd Freeman at dinner Thursday evening at the Chamberlin Hotel."

Mrs. Richard Johnson, of No. 12 South Third Street, has issued invitations for an afternoon reception on December 11th, from 2 to 5 P. M.

Guests of Honor.

Those present were Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Armstrong, Miss Lillian Walker, Miss Katie Armstrong, Miss Viola Forbes, Messrs. Lanning Tutwiler, M. Gregory and P. A. Conner.

Wright-Scherer.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Scherer, No. 24 North Twenty-second Street, was the scene of a pretty marriage on Thursday evening last at 7 o'clock, when their daughter, Hattie Mary, became the bride of Mr. Charles Frederick Wright. The Rev. C. E. Stuart of Venable Street Baptist Church, officiated at the bride, performed the ceremony.

The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms. The bride was handsomely gowned in gray messaline silk, with hat and gloves to match, and carried La France roses.

Miss Sallie Chidick and Amelia Schmidt, the bridesmaids, were gowned in white and carried pink chrysanthemums. Messrs. Hiram Scherer, brother of the bride, and Randolph Duffer, were ushers. The young couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents. The bride is an exceedingly popular young lady, and will be missed by her many friends. Mr. Wright is a prominent business man of Lynchburg, where he and his bride will make their home after a bridal tour.

Powers-Stickley.

"Rose Hill," the home of Mr. David H. Stickley, near White Post, Va., was the scene of quite a pretty wedding on Thursday November 29th, when his only daughter, Miss Elsie Rhodes Stickley, became the bride of Dr. Emory Byron Powers. At high noon, to the strains of the "Lullaby" wedding march, rendered by Miss Minnie Steele, the bride entered the parlor with her mother of honor, Mrs. J. A. Bowen, while the groom entered with his brother, Mr. Charles Powers, who was best man. The ribbon-bearers, Miss Minnie Steele, Genevieve and Irene Stickley, were dressed in light blue silk.

Andrew H. Christian, Mrs. H. L. Cabell, Mrs. Levin Jones, Mrs. Henry Baskerville, Mrs. James W. Allison, Mrs. V. Waller Moore, Mrs. Frank Christian, Mrs. P. H. May, Mrs. Thomas Atkinson and Mrs. Joseph E. Whittard.

Luncheon and Sale.

The Ladies' Building Fund Association of the Second Baptist Church will hold a sale of fancy and useful articles in the church parlor on Friday, December 7th, from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M. Luncheon will be served from 12 to 2 o'clock and supper from 2 to 3 o'clock.

EVERING OF PLEASURE.

Captain and Mrs. Preston Receive in Honor of Three Couples.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) SEVEN-MILE FORD, VA., December 3. One of the most recherche social functions of the season was the reception given Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock by Captain and Mrs. John M. Preston at their beautiful home, "The Ford," in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ivanhoe Copenhaver, of Seven-Mile Ford; Mr. and Mrs. Beverly T. Wren, of Chillovine, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Williams, of Marion.

The beautiful old colonial home was decorated in charming taste with delicate maidenhair ferns and carnations in lavish abundance. In the receiving line were: Captain and Mrs. Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Ivanhoe Copenhaver, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly T. Wren and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Williams, Mrs. R. B. Greener and Mrs. James D. Tate, of Chillovine, and Mrs. W. K. Vance and Mrs. Robert Gray, of Bristol, assisted the host and hostess in entertaining in the drawing-rooms, and those sitting in the dining-room were Miss Nell Preston, Miss Copenhaver, Miss Bradley Greener and Mrs. C. P. Carter. Miss Nell Preston invited the guests into the dining-room, beautifully decorated in the same powers as the drawing-rooms. The large old mahogany dining table, with its exquisite appointments of snowy linen, old silver and rare china, and a large mirror embedded in frame, to simulate a lake in its centre, rendered an effect calculated to induce a "feast of reason and a flow of soul," aided by delicious refreshments, served in accordance with the season.

After the departure of the guests, the receiving party, three newly-married couples, were led by Captain and Mrs. Preston, to the strains of "Lohengrin," into the dining-room, where an elaborate menu, for which "The Ford" is famous, was served. Mrs. Preston, the fairest of brides, presided.

LUNCHEON AT MONT CALM

Mrs. Mingea Entertains Friends in Most Delightful Manner.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ARLINGTON, VA., December 2.—Mrs. William E. Mingea entertained a few of her friends at "Mont Calm" on Saturday with a luncheon. Covers were laid for fourteen, and a delicious lunch was served in six courses. The ladies who enjoyed Mrs. Mingea's hospitality were: Messrs. William E. Mingea, Walter B. Elliott, C. P. Hart, S. P. Withers, V. G. Taylor and Misses Kate Mitchell, Mary Litchfield, Dora Trigg, Kate Fontaine, Frances Barnard, Mary Byrd Trigg and Fannie P. Withers.

Mrs. Mingea's luncheon was preceded by a dinner given by her daughter, Miss Frances Mingea, Friday evening, to the younger social set. Those present were Messrs. Virginia Clark, Elizabeth Bolling, Katherine Stuart, Margaret Astor, Virgil Astor, Nanda Byrd Trigg and Nellie Robertson.

Miss Lucy, of the Institute, gave these same young girls a pink tea on Saturday afternoon, and on Saturday night they were entertained with a birthday dinner given by Miss Margaret Astor.

FREDERICKSBURG FACTS.

Dr. Barber the Orator at Elks' Service—Kicked by Horse.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA., December 2.—At the Elks' memorial services last evening an address was delivered by Rev. Dr. H. H. Barber, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church. Choice music was rendered, and after the services the Elks marched in a body to the city cemetery and decorated the graves of deceased members of the lodge.

At the services at the Baptist Church yesterday, forty-two members were received into the membership of the church as the result of the recent revival.
